What Would Happen

Well, here's a short drabble I guess, found it in tumblr and had to write it, sorry for mistakes ahead of time. If you have any ideas, or stories you want me to write just leave a review to let me know. But anyway it was for fun, sorry if you on't like it.

>Suga could feel the overwhelming pain that passed through his body. As he stubbed his toe he didn't see the foot of the bench, as he was moving to pick up the volleyballs from around the court. His eyes squinted in pain, as he reached to grab his foot. Without much thought,

"Fuck!" was what escaped his lips, he didn't mean to curse, it just left his mouth without any meaning behind it.

He felt the entire gym room go silent as he opened his eyes to look around, blinking in confusion. All heads were turned toward him, whatever the other team members had in hand quickly dropped to the floor.

Before Suga could even process what he had done wrong the team bursted into tears. A few feet in front of him Hinata could be seen crying like a small child, wailing and trying to cover his face as he cried, to his left Kageyama could be seen trying to cover his tears away as they slipped down his face; he turns to hide.

Asahi had sunk down to the floor against the wall as if in gone into shock, silent tears crawling down his face. Nishinoya was laying facedown on the floor, his shoulders shaking considerably.

Tanaka have removed his shirt and waving it around weakly, considerable sounds of crying could be heard as he covered his face with one of his arms. Kazuhito, Hisashi, and Ennoshita were huddled in a corner on the far side of the court, arms over each other in a way of comfort.

Tsukishima's hand gripped on to Yamaguchi's shoulder, his crying couldn't even be heard, but a small amount of water had began to gather below him. It could have been his sweat. yet Suga couldn't be sure for their tall middle blocker. Yamguchi had a face of confusion was all that could be said.

"Guys? What's wrong? Hello? I'm sorry! I didn't mean too." Suga had franticly began to spout apologies, unsure of why his entire team had bursted into tears. Quickly he moves over to Hinata and Kageyama. Patting Hinata's head and moving to be at eye level.

"Sorry Hinata," he turns to Kageyama who has his back towards him,

"Sorry Kageyama." Suga moves to each member to apologize, but turns when he sees Dachii shaking his head in shame, gripping his head in distress.

"I really feel bad for you," he said before leaving the gym.
